Movin' On Up

By Ian Gallagher

This year many students who were previously in 6th grade became 7th graders. Also, as well as moving up in a grade, they transitioned from FBC to GBC. This was a big transition. FBC consists of grades K-6th, whereas GBC is home to 7th-12th grades. Most 7th graders liked the change from FBC to GBC. At GBC they feel they have more freedom and privileges as they move between classes with more responsible and mature older kids. They also have the freedom at lunch to choose to sit inside or outside. They report that this is a fun change to their schedule. Although they like the transition they still miss some of the things they liked at FBC like PE, no homework and no tests. They are excited to see more friends come to GBC next year when they transition over. They would like for younger students to know that the work at GBC is challenging, but not as hard as they thought. In the end, moving up is just another part of life and these 7th graders are welcoming the challenge!
